fangels, observing that it was not a matter of esus, so replete with interest because so fraught lew of a scheme of emancipation so great and ngels should strike their harps to tones of deepest armony. On divine anthority we were arounded that this inemably glorious project of ardon and immortality has ever been the

"EQUAL TO THE ANGELS."

The thinking principle must be associated with ome corporeal vehicle, through which it derives to perceptions and through which it operates; but whether the angels possess any bodily organization or whether they have any corporeal enshrinedent, however subtle and refined, is a question upon which the Scriptures are entrely alient. Mr. Stephenson went on o speak of their appearance in various orms and figures under the Old Testament conomy of their numbers, of their wisdom, trength, purity and intellectuality. They have seen unceasingly engaged in the study of the works and providence of God. What realms of thought hey have explored, and what exhibitions of the beity must have passed before them! But, what-wer might be the grasp of the intellectual powers angelic beings, however extended their field of islon and penetrative their force of examination, or however abundant their sources of information, here was one mystery which staggered and concuned them, and that was the mystery of GOD MANIFEST IN THE FLESH.

In that Christ was God; that was what always had been, and must be; but in that He was man the same as well and that was the mystery of GOD MANIFEST IN THE FLESH.

In that Christ was God; that was what always had been, and must be; but in that He was man the superis saw derangement, displacement, humiliation and death. Here was the acme of their amazement; here they bowed, acknowledging, as did the cyosic, "Great is the mystery of goddiness." The hings into which the angels desired to look were empraced in the sufferings of Christ and the glory that thould follow. The reverend gentleman then desired in ford style the sufferings which Christ endured from His incarnation to the agony upon the cross. Human artists had recourse to the excernal paraphenalia of woe in depicting the sufferings of heavy and the soul

ST. MARY'S CHURCH, YONKERS, N. Y. Pontifical High Mass-Impressive and

Solemn Services.
Yesterday a pontifical high mass was celebrated at this church, the pastor, Rev. Fatner slevin, being celebrant. A very eloquent sermon was preached by Blahop Quinlan, of Mobile, from the gospel of the second Sunday of Advent, in which he exhorted all of the necessity of conforming to the pentiential character of the ason, and of preparing themselves worthily for the wonderful and august event commemorated on hristmas day-the birth of the world's Redeemer. it will not be amiss to write briefly of this church and its surroundings. Its large and spacious schools, presided over by the ever attentive Sisters and the Christian Brothers, reflect much credit on the pastor and are a worthy monument of the united seal of priest and people. Good taste and culture characterize everything in connection with the religious institutions of this parish. The musical features of the service are far above medicority and what would be considered becoming the unpretentiousness of this suburban village. The mass selected on yesterday for musical rendition was Certuit's, a charming italian composition, afording masch opportunity for vocal display. The soprano, diss Jennis Hirschman, possesses a beautiful and well-cultivated voice, of somewhat limited yet sympathetic tone, well adapted to this style of music. This young lady would prove an excellent acquisition to many metropolitan churches famous for their divocacy and development of the "Ars Divina." The contraito (Altschul), the tenor (Daly) and the basso (Schubert), yitu the organist (Hoch), acquited themselves froms of the sely indeed. WALL STREET, SUNDAY, Dec. 8, 1872. The course of prices in Wall street during the week has been affected by the tenor of the severa State papers presented to Congress at the begin ing of the session on Monday and the development of great stringency in

THE MONEY MARKET.

The Washington reports were not of the usual roseate character of such documents, and their plain and frank speaking on several of the leading financial topics of the time were not calculated to encourage the speculation for a rise at the Stock Exchange. In the first place the confession of mability to make any further reduction of the axes was a powerful influence of itself against buoyancy in the stock market, and the enunciation of the fact by the President in his Message was followed by a sudden decline in prices, especially as the Secretary of the Treasury followed with recommendations to fix a limit to the amount of currency to be allowed under THE NATIONAL BANK SYSTEM. the virtue of which system is rather in decreasing than in augmenting its monopoly of the banking facilities of the country. Had Mr. Boutwell recommended free banking instead of asking to be allowed to reserve to the Treasury the power of expanding or contracting the volume of the ourrency at pleasure, he would have struck the more popular sentiment on this important subject. Were the national bank system allowed to permeate the whole country it would provide currency where needed, and by causing a contraction of greenbacks in the way of reserve, would hasten our progress to apode name and a service of western are service of western are service of western are serviced as a se rency at pleasure, he would have struck the more payments. Again, the preminence of Western Union Telegraph stock in Wall street has given it and hence its weakness under the recommenda tions of the Postmaster General for which he believes capable of construction at a cost of only one-quarter to one-third of the capital of the Western Union Company, had a depressing effect also. The chief feature of the share list has been Pacific Mali, which has been worked down to 79%, as against 103 in the Fall, by the very parties who had been so instrumental in causing its advance. Indeed, the per-version of the Stockwell party has caused serious comment upon the lack of consistency and good faith in that party, inasmuch as they are now guilty of all the wickedness and evil that they were in the habit of charging to the Smith-Gould party when the latter were locking up money and depressing the stock market. The PACIFIC MAIL POOL unloaded, very probably in the vicinity of par, and are now endeavoring to get back their stock for "the January rise." As for the stringency in the money market, it is attributable to several influences which have counteracted the effect of the return of currency to this city from the interior, among which are the locking up of money by the specula-tive cliques and the withdrawal by the Treasury of the money issued in October to relieve the stringency prevailing in that month. There is also an influence not readily seen, and, therefore, generally omitted in the calculation-viz., the REDUCTION OF THE SHORT INTEREST in the stock market since the Northwestern "corner." When the "bears" are numerous stocks are easily carried and money is less wanted. But with such an elimination of the short interest as that resulting from the terror inspired by the Northwestern "corner" the load of stocks becomes heavy, and hence the wider demand for money at present. A counterpart to the depression at the Stock Exchange was afforded in the speculation for a rise in gold, the pool in which are endeavoring to enlist outside interest and support. If the public come in they will sell to them. If the outsiders will go short they will "squeeze" them. Cash gold was made worth 1/2 per cent, according to the record on the book, but the transactions were probably fictitious, as there is very little outside interest in

THE GOLD MARKET, and the pool have the business all to themselves. Their control of the market enabled them to advance the price to 113%, which is warranted neither by the tone of the foreign exchanges nor the condi tion of our foreign trade, the imports last week having falien to the low sum of about $3,950,000. The Secretary of the Treasury has skilfully shown in his report to Congress that the average of gold for the past year has been the same as that of the previous year, although our imports were much heavier and our exports much less than during the previous twelvemonth. As we have imported too much for immediate consumption, the imports must continue to fall off greatly. He says:—"The stock of wool in warehouse June 30 was sumcient for six months' consumption; of sugar, for four and a half months; of coffee, for five months, and of tea, for twelve months." On the other hand, we are more likely to increase our exports in the immediate future. There is no greater bubble in Wall street than gold at 113%, as will be seen, doubtless.

THE SOUTHERN STATE BONDS, The Southern State bonds were only moderately active for the leading issues, and quite dail for the general list. The Tennessees continued to advance on the demand from the railroads for settlement of their obligations to the State, and on Saturday were quoted 79. The political excitement in New Orleans has had, very naturally, a depressing intuence on the Louisianas and on the New Orlean city bonds. The new South Carolinas were heavy, but steady. The fluancial reforms premised by the present Legislature of South Carolina are attracting the attention of investors to the present low wices of these bonds. In the North Carolinas here has been a sharp rise in the bonds issued to in the way of State aid, for which the State took back stock in the road. A suit brought to compet the State to devote the dividends on this stock to the payment of interest on the bonds has been decided in favor of the bondholders, and hence the rise. The State appointed a commission to "prove" and register these bonds, about three llions of which were issued, and the bonds so "proved" will share in the $23,000 which has alrealy accrued in the hands of the receiver. The weekly statement of the associated banks is unfavorable, owing to the locking up of greenbacks by the operators at the Stock Exchange and the withdrawal of legal tenders by the Treasury. The small line of foreign imports during the week has enabled the banks to make a gain in their specie item. The deposits have increased over three millions, reflecting the return of currency to the city from the interior, while the loans have been enlarged nearly two millions. SATURDAY, Dec. 7-6 P. M.

During the past week the movement in general trade has been slow and the merchandise markets, with brief intermissions, have ruled dull, while in not a few cases there has been a tendency to a lower basis. As a general thing, however, holders of merchandise have manifested considerable firm ness, declining all profers for goods at reduced ating commercial paper, but the dulness in trade circles cannot justly be attributed to this cause as the demand for nearly all commodities showed a material falling off. Still, this is the dull season and, in view of this fact, business may be considered quite lively. It is certainly as lively as it usually is at this time of year. The scarcity of tonnage has been one of the chief causes of the uletude in business marts during the week, as the export movement has been considerably retarded by the difficulty of obtaining freight room or vesels of the right class or size for charter. There has, nevertheless, occurred few radical changes in rates. The volume of business for the week was nusually small, and only a few of the principal articles of merchandise have moved with any degree of freedom. The cotton market has ruled very quiet during most of the week and the actua transactions were comparatively small. To-day the market was dull and prices were lower, both for spot and future deliveries. The breadstuffs movement has been slow, having been checked by the small offerings and the extreme views of holders. These remarks apply particularly to wheat, which, at the close of the week, was con siderably higher, though transactions from day to lay were either very moderate or very light. To-day the market for wheat was quiet and nominal, though extreme prices were in all cases demanded for prime wheat. Corn has been dult all through the week, but the large receipts have mainly gone to store, so that prices have been kept comparatively steady, though lower than they were a week ago. The market to-day assumed a firmer tone and the rew sales made were at higher prices. The deadlock in the pork market has been maintained all through the week, so that there has been maintained all through the week so that there has really been no market, prices being entirely nominal, but still about $2 per bbl. above the price for future delivery. Toward the close of the week the market became weak, and on Saturday prices were decidedly lower. Lard had ruled duil and heavy, and prices at the close of the week were decidedly lower than they were a week ago. Whiskey has been freely sought after and prices have steadily improved. Trade in the grocery market has been light throughout the entire week, and for some articles, particularly sugar, slight concessions have been granted in order to realize, the market chosing duil. Petroleum has been held at unaltered figures, but there were no buyers at asking prices and consequently the market was entirely nominal. Naval stores were but lightly dealt in, and closed on Saturday quite nominal.

The revised quotations below show a reduction of ½c. per lb. on all growths of good ordinary, and an advance of ½c. per lb. on all growths of good midding, The market closed duly and easier. Future deliveries were quiet but siteady. The sales reported on 'Ghange to-day sim up as follows:—
